

Independent time medians use the same hierarchy as ratios, but their quotient need not equal the median paired ratio.
Input conversion and output hash construction included; generation, certification and output destruction excluded.